Planners Of Two Views On Fences

At planning commission study session yesterday afternoon the members were unanimously pleased — they can't take action until next week's official meeting — with the report of the public improvements committee on tree planting policy for the city.

They were unanimously annoyed with City Attorney John Morse for not producing the rough draft of the sign ordinance they were scheduled to study at that meeting.

They were not unanimous in the matter of a proposed ordinance specifying materials for fences in the residence district.

A letter from Francis Whitaker to the city council initiated the idea.

"After some prodding by the city council and a few residents, an old, decrepit fence at Second and San Antonio has been replaced, and it seems to me that the cure is worse than the sickness.

Fly Your Kite Saturday, If It Doesn't Rain

Saturday will be Kite Day in Carmel.

The annual Kite Festival will begin in the afternoon at 1:15 o'clock with a parade from Sunset School to Carmel High School, where kites will be judged and awards made in 16 classifications.

Kite enthusiasts will follow a route from Sunset down Ninth Street to Camino Real, passing the former home of the Rev. Willis F. White, founder of the festival here and in Fresno. Continuing to Ocean Avenue, the parade will do a right-face and climb the hill to the high school campus.

Cars may join the parade at any point. A city truck for youngsters without rides will also leave Sunset at parade time.

Entrants in the festival must live in the Carmel Unified School District and must have made the kite entered in competition, which will be divided into four age groups with prizes for high flying, prettiest, smallest and largest kites in each.

Special prizes will include the White Prize for best international and most unusual kites and for the grand champion kite of the day.

Judges, all members of the Carmel Lions Club, will include Jim Buffington, Vincent Terras and Bill Stitt.

In case of rain, the event will be postponed to March 29.

CANDIDATES' FORUM

Plans for a pre-election town hall meeting featuring talks and question-answer sessions with candidates for the Carmel City Council were pending this week, with Dale Leidig in charge of arrangements. The meeting is sponsored by the Carmel Business Association. Date and place will be announced.

"Dear Mrs. Trumbly, Thank you for being yourself, for being a bridge between home and the world, for keeping your doors (both front and refrigerator) always open to me, and for being just plain nice.

"Your friendship and help will remain an inspiration for the rest of my life. One of these days, if I can possibly find a girl who looks like you, I shall marry her immediately and we will assemble a home as much like yours as possible.

"No one has ever made me feel quite as welcome as you. I shall never forget you, even though by now I'm sure you will have found more boys to keep the music flowing through your house. With deepest affection and gratitude, P.S. How are the hummingbirds?"

This is a composite letter, made of scraps of literally hundreds of real letters received almost daily and treasured lovingly by a remarkable Carmel woman known exclusively as Mrs. Charles Trumbly, Aunt Agnes, Mother Aggie and Mom.

To say that her comfortable house in its garden setting at Santa Lucia and San Carlos is a home-away-from-home for gifted musicians serving military duty at Fort Ord would be nearly an unforgivable understatement.

The testimony, written and otherwise, shows plainly that being befriended by Mrs. Trumbly is a high point in human relationships, a beam in the dark, a source of the kind of memories we all live by.

I saw her first a number of months ago when I dropped into her home with friends after a Monterey County Symphony performance. Here was a house full of the mementoes of an active lifetime, and tiptoeing through it a petite, graceful woman, soft-spoken and full of smiles, the very prototype, in fact, of Cinderella's beautiful and magical godmother.

She was tiptoeing to avoid disturbing the "young musician" guests of that particular evening. Asleep on her sofa was Jason Millar, then only several weeks — (Continued on Page Four)

Mrs. Smith Files For Election To Co. School Board

Mrs. Everett Smith, Carmel Highlands, has announced her candidacy to the County Board of Education, for the vacancy created by the expiration of A. B. Ingham's term. Mr. Ingham has not announced whether or not he will run for re-election.

Primary elections April 18 for the May 20 elections for county and district school trustees.

All the first eight years of Mrs. Smith's life were spent in California, the past 32 in Monterey County. Her teaching experience includes eight years in California public schools and she holds a state life certificate. She was principal of a five-teacher school which gave her administrative experience, and she has done all the accounting for her husband's firm for the past 16 years, giving her an additional backlog of experience in business.

"We are all interested in the trends that can be observed in education at the present time," Mrs. Smith said in a statement to the Pine Cone. "I have lived long enough to see two complete swings of the pendulum, and I am tremendously interested."

"I graduated from the eighth grade at the age of twelve at a time when county examinations, arriving sealed to be opened on the day of examination were given to both seventh and eighth graders. I still have copies of those examinations and they make for — (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Employees Donate To R-to-W Fund

Employees of the Blue Bird Restaurant made a contribution to the Right to Work Defense Fund, this week, in memory of Marjorie Hamer, one of the four owners of the establishment.

Miss Hamer, heretofore in apparent good health, died of a heart attack last week.

An initiative measure for a right to work ordinance (open shop) for Carmel will be on the ballot in the municipal election April 8. The initiative is an outgrowth of citizen resentment against months of picketing the Blue Bird Restaurant by the Culinary, Restaurant Employees and Bartenders Union. In the spring of last year, when Ruhl Link, Sarah Anderson, Margaret Gibbons and the late Marjorie Hamer bought the restaurant, the union claimed that the new owners were bound by a contract it had with the former owners, and picketed the restaurant.

Suppliers refused to cross the picket line and restaurant patrons assisted the owners bringing in supplies. Pickets armed themselves with cameras and photographed diners entering the restaurant. Indignant citizens formed a right to work committee, got signatures of over a thousand local people and presented a petition to the city council for the council to pass a right to work ordinance for Carmel. The council postponed action to await a court decision on a right to work ordinance which had been passed in Palm Springs.

The union removed its pickets and brought suit against the Blue Bird owners in superior court for alleged loss of wages of union employees, wages for pickets, etc., and the case was dismissed on the grounds that a union is not competent to bring such action.

The Right to Work Committee then circulated a legal petition for an initiative measure to appear on the ballot. City Attorney John Morse advised the city council that the ordinance would be illegal and to ignore the initiative petition on the grounds that it is not incumbent on the council to place an illegal law on the ballot. The council took the view that an initiative petition should go on the ballot whatever their opinion as to its legality.

Whether such legislation falls within the province of a city has not yet been established. District court ruled against the Palm Springs Ordinance and it has now gone to the state supreme court. Courts have upheld several county right to work ordinances and ruled against others.

If the voters approve the right to work measure, it becomes a city ordinance and is in effect until it is repealed by a vote of the people or nullified by court action.

POLING PLACE NEEDED
There is need for a poling place for the June primary election in Precinct I, according to City Clerk Larry Rose. Precinct 1 is bound on the north by Twelfth Street, east by Lincoln, south by Santa Lucia, and by mean low tide line on the west. A fee of $10 is paid for use of premises. There is also need for more election officers.

Absentee Ballots For City Election Are Available Now
Carmel Voters who will not be in town for the April 8 municipal election may obtain absentee ballots from City Clerk Larry Rose at city hall between now and April 3.

Voters who expect to be out of town may mark their ballots and leave them with the city clerk, or take them with them and mail them to the clerk's office. Ballots must be returned by April 14.

Fourth Quarter City Sales Tax Is Up $2,916.71
Carmel received its fourth quarter sales tax from the state this week, $25,962.08, an increase of $2,916.71 over the corresponding period of 1956. City Clerk Larry Rose is cautiously optimistic in interpreting these figures, since the fourth quarter of 1957 "was supposed to be first dip in the recession," yet the sales tax shows a substantial increase of spending in Carmel during that period.

Total sales tax for the calendar year is $101,510.09. The anticipated returns for the fiscal year, which starts July 1, are $121,000. There will be another quarter's returns to complete the fiscal year's sales tax income, and Clerk Rose says "a check" the sum anticipated for the budget will be covered, with a surplus.

Gregory Millar Signs Contract For Fifth Season Here
Gregory Millar, conductor of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra and of the San Francisco Little Symphony, Monday signed a contract with the local orchestra for next season. The forthcoming concert year, which will include four concerts, will be Millar's fifth with the Peninsula group.

Announcement of the new contract was made in Carmel this week by Eben Whittlesey, president of the symphony organization.

Meanwhile Mr. Millar, who with his family is moving into a new home off Stevenson Drive in the Monterey Peninsula Country Club area, was to leave this week end for Pittsburgh to participate in a workshop conducted by the American Symphony Orchestra League.

CARMEL TRACK TEAMS TACKLE PACIFIC GROVE AND MONTEREY TODAY

After a week of inactivity due to inclement weather, Coach Fred Rainer's Carmel High track squads will see action this afternoon at the Monterey Peninsula College track where they will be opposed by the Monterey and Pacific Grove thinclads. Last Saturday, the Carmel tracksters were to have clashed with Hollister and Monterey at the Monterey oval but a Saturday night deluge washed out the anticipated competition. Coach Rainer is anxious to have his charges get some tough competition under their belts as the Padre thinclads are faced with a season replete with dual, 3-way, invitational relays, and the State Meet at Los Angeles. Carmel's well-balanced track squad may be the strongest in the history of the Padre institution and is looking forward to establishing some records at the Palo Alto and Martinez Relays. The Padre pole-vault quartet of Ted Smith, Phil Durbrow, Phil White, and Bob Forbes has an excellent chance to establish a new standard at the Martinez relays while the two-mile relay quartet of Alf Anderson, Mike Raggett, Art Wilkerson, and Pete Hanson could come close at the Palo Alto relays.

Today's 4:00 o'clock meet at the Monterey Peninsula College track will give local track filberts a line on the Peninsula preps and could be a close meet with Monterey's depth offsetting the first-place strength of Carmel and Pacific Grove. The Padres are strong in the jumps and middle-distance events while the Breakers have good potential in the hurdles and sprints.

Carmel High's 1958 track schedule:

Today — Monterey and Pacific Grove at MPC;

LIVE OAK NINE AT CARMEL FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Coach Marty Mullins' Live Oak Acorns invade Carmel High's new baseball diamond Friday afternoon for a league game which kicks off championship competition for both schools in the CCAL B-division chase. Old Jupe Pluvius washed out all league action last Friday so all the teams in the B-division will try again tomorrow. Friday's league opener is slated to get underway at 3:45 with Tim O'Shea toeing the pitching slab for the Padres and Ken Nishikawa curving them over for the visiting Acorns. Live Oak has always fielded a creditable baseball team and figures to be in the thick of things again this season. Coach Mullins is one of the most astute baseball mentors in Northern California and gets 100% effort from all his players. The Padres have veterans at most positions this season and could be a pennant contender if the pitching staff can locate the 17-inch plate. At the present time, the big three of the varsity pitching staff consists of Tim O'Shea, a two-year letterman, Cim Conway, up from the jayvees, and Bud Conroy, a transfer from New Jersey. Phil O'Shea, a jayvee hurler last year, will come along as the season develops but has an ailing arm at the present time. Rugged Joe Mason, a two-year varsity veteran, will handle all the catching chores until David Hansen, a brilliant catching prospect, recovers from an arm operation. The first base position is wide open with Fred Nelson and Gil Altamirano making strong bids for the starting job. Andy Gray, a three-year veteran, has an inside track on the second base position but is being pushed by George Crispo, a slick glove man with a silent stick. Walt Helm, with one year's juniorvarsity and one year varsity experience behind him, looks to be the best hot-corner prospect in the B-league this season. Pete Osborne, diminutive senior with lots of baseball savvy, is challenging for the third base spot and is also a valuable utility infielder at second or shortstop. The shortstop position is touch-and-go with Ron Fala and Bud Conroy battling for the starting berth. Three lettermen in the outfield, Dale Dawson, Neil Giaratana, and Mal Burdis, give the Padres a solid outer defense which compares with the best in the league. Ted Balestrerri, Don Hinchcliffe, and Larry Dufur provide capable support in the outfield.

Carmel's junior-varsity squad will entertain the Live Oak jayvees on the upper field at the same time as the two varsities are squaring off on the new diamond. Coach Dan Yurkovich has a jayvee squad of freshmen and sophomores which has displayed plenty of baseball talent in the two short weeks of practice.

Carmel High's 1958 baseball schedule:

Today — Junior-varsity at Robert Louis Stevenson;

March 21, Live Oak, here;

March 28, Gilroy, here;

March 31, Monterey Tourney Easter Vacation;

WATER BOY

Out on the football field, when the team captain calls for a time out, all eyes turn to the water boy and the precious cargo he carries. The players know and appreciate that a drink of water, more than anything, is the best refresher and sustainer.

The amount of water consumed by a football team during one game is infinitesimal compared with the hourly amount of water we supply to all our customers. Nevertheless, whether it is consumed in great or small quantities, you can always be sure that you are getting the safest, purest water available anywhere.

Tunnel Of Love Is Not Profound But Proves Very Funny

By Mary Lindsay-Oliver

The Tunnel of Love, by Joseph Fields and Peter DeVries, that had a long run in New York and San Francisco, can hardly be called scholarly or refined, for its comedy and slap-dash talk and action are typically commonplace. But its stagecraft, dealing with a childless couple adopting a child, is cleverly put together.

The desire for children having been thwarted in one couple and multiplied with their neighbors, and the apparently artless capitulation by the childless father to the deliberate wiles of a case worker from the Society of Children for Adoption, who is also writing a treatise on such situations, causes, along with the man's effort to keep his action secret, some screamingly funny comedy, which has been enjoyed by two audiences at the Sunset Auditorium.

Russel Nype and Nancy Hadley as the childless couple, William Bishop as Dick Pepper and Hollis Irving as his wife, Narda Onyx as Estelle Novick and Elsa Walden as Miss McCracken are all well known actors of experience who carried out their actions and facial contortions with full conviction throughout.

Apart from the funny side, the play goes to show the necessity for telling the truth which the friendly, frank neighbor advised, for when, in any case, it always "will out" complications that could have been avoided arose to add to confusion, and of course the comedy. It was brought from San Francisco to Carmel by Dudley Nix.

PROGRAM ON ALASKA

Movies and a colorful stage display on an Alaskan theme will be features of a program by Capt. Art Hook this evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Monterey Peninsula College Armory. Capt. Hook, who has spent 34 years of his life in Alaska, did air-sea rescue work in the Arctic region as a member of the U. S. Coast Guard during World War II. ## Carmel Realtors Not Included In One Of 2 Listing Services

It is suggested by Jim Mustard, president of the Carmel Board of Realtors, that property owners in Carmel and the vicinity wishing to sell, should note there are two separate multiple listing services. The Carmel Board of Realtors Listing Service includes all realtors in Carmel whose main offices are in the town and in Carmel Valley. Property listed with one of those realtors exclusively may be turned over to the listing service, in which case all offices will be given complete information on the property. This will avoid inconveniencing the owner by having to call all offices and give the information separately.

The other listing service, known as Monterey Peninsula Multiple Listing Service, does not include Carmel Realtors. It has been brought to the attention of the Carmel Board by various property owners that they have listed their property for sale with the Monterey Peninsula Multiple Listing Service not realizing that Carmel brokers were not included. Seaside and Pacific Grove Realtors belong to that listing service, Mr. Mustard explains.

He states further that property owners should obtain a brochure covering the list of offices included in this service from any realtor soliciting a listing so they may understand thoroughly under which service their property is listed.

Agnes Trumbly's Front Door Is Always Open To Musicians

old, and in a guest room was his sister Denise, not quite two, the children of symphony conductor Gregory Millar and his wife, pianist Roslyn Frantz.

But that evening was exceptional. Ordinarily the young guests who move through Mrs. Trumbly's home, raid her cookie jar and call up music from the Steinway that dominates her parlor are such artists as John Browning, rising young pianist now on his way to concerts in Vienna and Antwerp with invitations to play in the Hollywood Bowl and Carnegie Hall on his return; William Masseles, a fellow-alumni of Browning's at Julliard and once a guest with the symphony here; Kenneth Wilson, celebrated and decorated director of the J. Red Diamond chorus; Clifton Bartlett, pianist with the chorus; Harold Cruthirds, first cellist with the ABC Seventh Symphony now on tour in Tokyo; Carroll Chilton, pianist with the Fort Ord Chorus when it was first organized; Lionel Gunn—but the list is far too long for casual recital and Mrs. Trumbly says she "has them all in her heart" anyway.

When Mrs. Trumbly goes away for a weekend, some young soldier musician, or perhaps several, occupy her home, and practice her piano, for the small price of watching over the garden, and feeding the hummingbirds that swarm around the garden window. They never neglect or forget the hummingbirds.

On more than one evening the entire Red Diamond choral group of some twenty vocalists was entertained. One guest, in a burst of gratitude, airmailed not one but two notes of thanks to Carmel from the fort.

It all began seven years ago when Mrs. Trumbly, whose husband was the late Charles Trumbly, immigration attorney of Oakland, moved to Carmel in partial retirement.

Her family grown, she planned to "sit in the patio and catch up on some very neglected reading." (Her son Robert is dean of boys at Lodi High School. Richard is a teacher in Coolidge, Kenneth and Alan both still live in Oakland and a daughter, Marian Trumbly Leisz, lives in the Trinity County Alps.)

Understandably, sitting in the patio was no good for a mother long used to a houseful of young people.

As a member of the Symphony Guild, she began serving refreshments to the performers at snack time during Monday evening rehearsals. (Her cakes and pies are famous, nearly legendary.) This was her initial contact with the shifting symphony membership composed of talented youngsters stationed at the military posts here.

It doesn't need saying that Agnes Trumbly never caught up on her patio reading project. In addition to the guild, she is active in the Carmel Woman's Club, the Musical Art Club, the Carmel Music Society, the Citizens' Committee for Foreign Scholars, and All Saints' Episcopal Church Auxiliary. Although many of her interests involve music, she is not a musician herself.

A granddaughter of California pioneer Hiram Scott, for whom Scott's Valley in the Santa Cruz Mountains is named, Mrs. Trumbly was born in "old" Santa Cruz, a town with a still-natural coastline, a band shell on the beach, and an opera house with red plush seats where she recalls being exposed as a little girl to James Whitcomb Riley reading his own verse and Joseph Jefferson in his celebrated Rip Van Winkle role.

It is a true community compliment when Mrs. Trumbly says she now makes her home in Carmel because it is the place which to her most nearly resembles in appearance this remembered town of her girlhood.

No matter what more is said about "Aunt Agnes's" home, her generosity and herself, there are always more good things about her that she and even her friends will never tell.

It took a soldier guest—she never found out exactly which one—to sum her up in a note he left in her sugar bowl one morning after breakfast:

"Now sing we all devoutly,
humbly,
Praise the Lord for Mrs.
Trumbly."

—Raylyn Penney.

Addie E. Price

Mrs. Addie Elizabeth Price, 84, former Carmel resident and mother of Mrs. Markham (Gladys R.) Johnston of Carmel, died March 16 at her home in Palo Alto.

Mrs. Price, widow of F. C. Price Sr. and a native San Franciscan, lived in Carmel from 1935 to 1951 and for 14 years before that divided her time between Carmel and Palo Alto, where she has resided since 1951.

She came to Carmel originally in 1906 to vacation in the family's summer home on North Lincoln Street. In 1911 she made her home here for a year while her husband was in business as a real estate broker with the late Frank Deventorf.

Two other daughters, in addition to Mrs. Johnston, are among survivors: Mrs. F. C. Price Jr. and Mrs. Clifton S. Slonaker of Palo Alto. Mrs. Price also leaves a son, Robert C. Riegg Jr., of Walnut Creek; two nieces, Mrs. John F. Roberts Jr. of Palo Alto and Mrs. Dan Bardin of Salinas; eight grand children and four great grandchildren.

Funeral rites were conducted Monday at Roller and Hapgood Chapel, Palo Alto, with burial following in Mountain View Cemetery of Oakland. Friends who wish to may make donations in Mrs. Price's memory to their favorite charities.

David Trevvett

David Kreigh Trevvett, 44, formerly of Carmel, died yesterday in a San Mateo hospital following an illness. He was the son of Mrs. Sidney A. Trevvett and the late Sidney A. Trevvett of Carmel.

Born November 9, 1914, in Trenton, New Jersey, Mr. Trevvett attended Andover Preparatory School in Massachusetts. He moved with his parents to Carmel in 1930, where he made his home until several years ago when he moved to San Mateo.

In addition to his mother, he leaves his wife, Mrs. Cherie Trevvett of San Mateo; two sons and a daughter by a former marriage. Sidney A. Trevvett III, on Naval duty in the San Francisco Bay area; Kreigh Trevvett, attending school in Carmel, and Susan Trevvett, attending the Valley School for Girls, Tucson, Arizona; and an uncle, Walter Egan of Carmel. Services are pending in San Mateo.

The Time Has Come .

by Kippy Stuart

So many laborers come and go in my work that I have come to know all sorts and kinds. Recently jobs have been hard to come by and many good men are unable to contact some one who needs a gardener. It always hurts me to refuse any of these applicants, yet the supply must meet the demand. I have been saying "No" right along, since I know of no one in need of labor.

The time came, the other day, when I could not say "No." I received a postal card with the simple slogan:

"Have shovel. Will dig." I got a good laugh out of this one, and when the young man arrived at my garden gate I got another laugh. A jaunty, redheaded lad, in his teens, waltzed up to my garden gate where I was working. He doffed his hat, bowed and announced:

"I have now reached the first plateau."

Taken by surprise, I looked him over and asked,

"What are your qualifications for a gardener?"

His reply sealed the job, for he said as jauntily as any wit,

"Have brain, will learn."

Needless to say, I hired the lad to work on my own place and I shall never regret this, for he has proven true to his word. "Have shovel will dig". "Have brain will learn."

I can now recommend this young gardener to any one with the assurance that my judgment will be justified.

We may decry all this rain that has been sweeping down upon us, but our gardens take another view. The soil now is being conditioned for Spring planting and seldom has this locality been so thoroughly wetted deep down in the soil.

It is time to start the summer delphiniums. They can be bought at any nursery, and the smaller the plants, when introduced into the soil, the better the blooming. The Pacific strain in the delphinium family, is a hybrid that has proven its worth and produces enormous colorful flowers. Delphiniums take small care and are most rewarding. They require full sun and should be planted about three feet apart. Spraying occasionally is a must and fertilizers, such as the fish emulsion*, will stimulate the plants to more abundant bloom.

All sorts of annuals can now be planted. Snapdragons, stock, sweet-peas, pansies and all the old familiars. The trick in growing annuals is to prepare the soil thoroughly; fertilize with steer manure, and a little bone meal. Dig, dig deeply to allow the new roots freedom in the soil. Some varieties of seeds may be broadcast right now on soil that has been lightly ruffed with a rake, and after broadcasting the seeds, ruff again with the rake. Birds love the small seeds, and not all of yours will germinate, so it is a good idea to broadcast more than you will need.

* Dear Kippy:

Can't you recommend a less oppressively odorous fertilizer? Think of the neighbors! Wilma.

Victor MacKenzie Rose Chapman

Private funeral rites for Victor Hugh MacKenzie, 66, of Carmel, were held Saturday afternoon in the Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel with Chaplain John R. Wright officiating. Mr. MacKenzie, a Carmel resident for the past decade, died Friday morning in a local hospital following a brief illness. Interment at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea followed the funeral.

A World War I veteran, Mr. MacKenzie was active in American Legion Post 9 of Salem, Oregon, and in the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post and Masonic Lodge of the same city before moving to the Peninsula.

He was born November 8, 1892, in Grants Pass, Oregon; and was regional supervisor and public relations director in this area for a Washington, D. C. firm.

Mr. MacKenzie leaves his wife, Frances; a brother, Herbert L. MacKenzie, Hillsboro, Oregon, and three sisters, Mrs. W. R. Peabody, Medford, Oregon; Mrs. Frank Pook of Langlois, Oregon, and Mrs. John Breen, Santa Rosa.

Small and large printing orders are quickly filled at The Pine Cone Press. Dial Carmel MA 4-3881.

Last rites were held Tuesday morning in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea for Mrs. Rose Josephine Chapman of Carmel, who died Saturday following a period of failing health.

Born March 30, 1886, in New York City, she lived for a time in Long Beach before moving four years ago to Carmel, where she made her home with a son, Herbert J. Taylor.

Other survivors are a sister, Mrs. Julia Dingledein of Cutbank, Montana; a brother, Charles Wagner of Orlando, Florida, and two grandsons, Allen and Bert Taylor of Carmel. The Rev. W. O. Wells of the Church of God, Del Monte Park, officiated at the funeral, with the Paul Mortuary in charge.

Music On The Peninsula

BY MARY LINDSAY-OLIVER

Heifetz is a name to conjure with. Therefore, when The Musical Art Club secured his daughter Josepha for a piano recital to open the 1958 season it became an auspicious moment despite the continued rain storms, and the audience that gathered at Bosendorfer Hall to hear her was one of the most representative the Musical Art Club has drawn, to my knowledge. Continuing the policy of presenting artists early in their public careers to afford experience, and their hearers an opportunity to follow up interest in their progress, the Club is filling a special and commendable objective in the music of the Peninsula.

Having personally known Jascha Heifetz and presented some of his recitals throughout the country, I was particularly curious to find out the extent of his daughter's talent. It showed the same unlimited flexibility of technique that dazzled the public in her father's presentations without the profound emotional insight which developed later.

The Prokofieff Sonata which filled half of Josepha's program bristled with digital difficulties. In spite of the handicap of a shortened forefinger, she tossed off the repeated phrases of disjointed harmonies with great speed and dexterity. Apart from her performance, one was not intrigued with Prokofieff's lack of logical construction, though the lentissimo movement was more coherent. The twenty-four Preludes of Chopin comprised the second half. Seldom are these played in toto, so the pianist is to be congratulated on compassing them all in one performance. Their varied characters afford every possible technical treatment but they also demand sensitive and deep expression in the slower, lyrical numbers, so it seemed a pity that the player's excessive speed and dominating left hand (an unusually strong one) clouded the higher melodic lines in which Chopin is so articulate for singing qualities. Otherwise the whole performance was one of considerable bravura and future promise. She added as encores the Bach two-part invention in F and a Scarlatti Sonata in C major. The Scarlatti was given charmingly.

Among local musicians of experience is Carl Bensberg who spends his summers in Vienna. He gave an interesting song recital last Wednesday at the Carmel Foundation accompanied by Lydia Bader. In a program of classic Bensberg's baritone voice of excellent musical quality, feeling and artistic delivery was greatly enjoyed by those present, to which he added the popular There's a Brown Bird Singing by Haydn Wood. We hope he can be more widely heard the next time he returns to Carmel. It is an unfair handicap for good musicians to have to use a worn-out piano with no soft pedal working—particularly in accompanying; so may I take this opportunity to suggest some generous donor would earn much gratitude by presenting a suitable instrument to the Foundation. Its audiences so much appreciate the contributions by musicians that Blanche Tolme so faithfully procures.

ORDINANCE NO. 245 N.S.

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING DIVISION 3, PART 7, OF THE ORDINANCE CODE OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, DEALING WITH ELECTRIC INSTALLATIONS.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. Section 912 of the Ordinance Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 912. PERMITS: No person, firm or corporation shall supply electric current to, equip with wiring, fixtures or apparatus, or make any alteration of or changes in, or additions to any electric wiring or apparatus in any building in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, without first obtaining from the Building Inspector a written permit to do such work. Such permit shall state the kind of work to be done, and it shall cover only the work so designated. Such permit will also state the location of the building where said work is to be done, and shall be valid only for the location so stated. When the Building Inspector finds an electrical installation conforms to the rules and regulations adopted herein, he shall issue a certificate that such rules and regulations have been complied with. It shall be unlawful to supply, or use, any electric current in any such installation until a certificate has been issued in accordance with the provisions of this Ordinance.

"Nothing in this section shall be construed as prohibiting any person, firm or corporation from supplying electric current for any electric wiring of equipment which was installed in any building prior to April 22, 1938, unless such wiring or apparatus has been condemned as provided by Section 914 hereof."

Section 2. Article 3 of the Ordinance Code, entitled Adoption of National Electrical Code, is hereby repealed.

Section 3. Section 918 of the Ordinance Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 918. FEES: Permit fees shall be as follows:

"Where work for which a permit is required by this Code is started or proceeded with prior to obtaining said permit, the fees above specified shall be doubled, but the payment of such double fee shall not relieve any person from fully complying with the requirements of this Code in the execution of the work nor from any other penalties prescribed herein."

Section 4. Division 3, Part 8, of the Ordinance Code is hereby amended by the addition of a new section, which shall be known as Section 918.1 and which shall read as follows:

"Section 918.1. FIXTURES: A separate permit and a separate inspection shall be required where fixtures are installed, excepting in cases where buildings are wired, and the fixtures installed at the time wiring is done, and both wiring and fixtures can be inspected at the same time."

Section 5. Section 919 of the Ordinance Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 919. PIPING AND PLUMBING: All plumbing, piping, duct work, flues, etc., shall be in place and inspected before the electrical wiring is installed. It shall be unlawful to lath, cover or conceal any electrical work or wiring as herein described until the required inspections have been completed."

Section 6. Section 921 of the Ordinance Code, dealing with registration, is hereby repealed.

Section 7. Section 922 of the Ordinance Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Section 922. BOND: Every person, firm or corporation engaged in the business of placing or installing any electrical wiring, appliances, apparatus or construction in or on buildings in the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea shall furnish a bond to the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea in the sum of $1,000.00, executed by a surety company authorized to transact business in the State of California; said bonds shall be approved by and filed with the Building Inspector of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

"The condition of each such bond shall be that in the event the principal named in said bond shall comply with the provisions of this Ordinance, then said obligation shall be void, but in the event the said principal shall fail to comply with any of the provisions of this Ordinance in the performance or doing of any electrical work, or shall install faulty or defective electrical work and refuse or neglect to correct or remove said electrical work after notice from the Building Inspector, then said Building Inspector may direct said work to be removed or corrected and the cost and expense of such removal or correction not exceeding the sum of $1,000.00 shall be collectible from said principal and the surety or sureties on said bond."

Section 8. Division 3, Part 8, of the Ordinance Code is hereby amended by the addition of a new Article and Section as follows:

Article 6 A

NATIONAL ELECTRICAL CODE

"Section 922.1. That certain document in book form, entitled 'National Electrical Code', 1956 Edition, published by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, three copies of which are now on file in the office of the City Clerk of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, is hereby adopted and enacted by the City Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea as the Electrical Code of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, subject to certain additions, modifications and exceptions as hereinafter listed in Article 7 of this Division."

Section 9. Section 923 of the Ordinance Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 923. GENERAL PROVISIONS:

(a) All electrical wiring for light, heat and power shall be enclosed in a rigid galvanized iron conduit or electric metallic tubing of approved make in all buildings erected in fire zone No. 2, as the same is defined in Ordinance No. 188 of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

(b) When an addition is made to, or an alteration made in, an existing building, all new electrical work and all existing electrical work repaired or changed shall be made to comply with the provisions of this Ordinance.

LEGAL ADVERTISEMENT

(c) Transformers operating at 120 volts primary, shall be provided with cutouts properly fused for the primary current of the transformer to be used. Such transformer must be installed in approved cabinets or metal boxes and shall not be located in attics, closets or other closed places.

(d) That regardless of the Fire District involved, all structures built for, or converted to an occupancy or use other than Single Family Residence, shall have all wiring installed in Rigid Metal Pipe, Metal Tubing, or approved Flexible Metal Conduit, as such are defined in the 1956 National Electrical Code.

(e) The use of wooden moulding for wire raceways is prohibited.

(f) All wire connectors for the connection of fixture wires must be of the type having a metallic helical spring or thread; moulded porcelain wire connectors shall not be used.

(g) Lamp cord extensions shall not be nailed or stapled to walls or woodwork.

(h) That all Appliance and General Purpose Branch Circuits, as such are defined in Article 100 of the 1956 National Electrical Code, shall have Circuit Breakers as the overcurrent protective device.

(i) No more than 12 lights shall be installed on a Light Circuit. No more than 6 single, or duplex, plugs shall be installed in a plug circuit. Any circuit which includes an outlet other than for light fixtures shall be considered a plug circuit.

(j) The minimum size wire for any wiring carrying 110 or more volts shall be not less than #12 wire, with the exception that single runs for certain controls may, when approved by the Inspector, use #14 wire.

(k) Any Panel Housing which is so designed that more than 6 circuits can be connected therein shall have a Main Switch between it and the Service supplying it; even though not more than 6 circuits are installed in such panel housing when originally placed.

(l) The minimum service for any installation shall be not less than 60 Amps, except that in such installations involving not more than 2-110 volt branch circuits, the service may be reduced to not less than 30 amps upon the written approval of the Inspector.

(m) The minimum size for the service pipe from the service head, through the meter, the main, and to the first point of load distribution, shall be not less than 1 1/4".

(n) Conductors to the center of distribution shall be of the same size wire as the service from which they run.

(o) The use of Flexible Armoured Cable, as covered in Article 334 of the 1956 National Electrical Code, and commonly known as BX Cable, is prohibited.

(p) Non-metallic Sheathed Cable, as defined in Article 336 of the 1956 National Electrical Code, and commonly known as 'Romex', is prohibited.

(q) The wiring type defined and regulated in Article 324 of the 1956 National Electrical Code, and titled 'Concealed Knob-and-Tube Work', is hereby designated as the permissible alternative to Pipe and Conduit type wiring in wood frame structures for Single-Family dwellings and accessory buildings there-to.

(r) For each extra inspection made necessary by defective workmanship or materials, the Inspector shall charge a fee of $1.00."

Section 10. In every place where the Ordinance Code is herein amended, the Ordinance Code referred to is the Ordinance Code of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea.

Section 11. CONSTITUTIONALITY: If any section, sub-section, sentence, clause or phrase of this Ordinance is, for any reason, held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this Ordinance. The City Council hereby declares that it would have passed this Ordinance, and each section, sub-section, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, sub-sections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Section 12. EFFECTIVE DATE. This Ordinance shall take effect and be in force thirty (30) days from and after its final passage and approval.

CERTIFICATION OF CITY CLERK

I, the undersigned, City Clerk of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, California, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true and correct copy of Ordinance No. 245 N.S. which was given its first reading at a Regular Meeting of the City Council of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, held on the 5th day of February, 1958, and finally adopted at a Regular Meeting of the said Council on the 5th day of March, 1958.

I further certify that upon its passage, the foregoing Ordinance was signed by the Mayor of said City and attested by the City Clerk thereof.

DATED this 10th day of March, 1958.

L. D. ROSE, City Clerk.
 Date of Publication: Mar. 20, 1958.

ORDINANCE NO. 246 N.S.

AN ORDINANCE REVISING THE SETTING OF CURB GRADES ON THE WEST SIDE OF JUNIPERO AVENUE BETWEEN FIFTH AVENUE AND SIXTH AVENUE.

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. That Section 981, paragraph C, of the Ordinance Code of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea, be amended to read as follows:

"C. That the curb grades of Junipero Avenue from the south line of Fifth Avenue to the north line of Sixth Avenue shall be and are hereby established in accordance with the following elevations:
 270.50 at the point where the East curb line of Junipero Avenue intersects the south line of Fifth Avenue.

ORDINANCE NO. 248 N.S.

ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 1012 (f), ARTICLE 7 OF DIVISION 1, PART X, OF THE ORDINANCE CODE OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA RELATIVE TO ACCESS REQUIREMENT TO CAR STORAGE FACILITIES IN THE EVENT OF SET-BACK VARIANCE

THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

Section 1. That Section 1012 (f), Article 7 of Division 1, Part X, of the Ordinance Code of the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea is hereby amended to read as follows:

"(f) To allow the construction and use of accessory buildings nearer to the front line of a building site than fifteen (15) feet in any of the following cases:

(i) where a dwelling constructed prior to the first day of April, 1940 is so situated on a building site that a private garage has not been, and cannot be, constructed on said building site in compliance with the front line requirements of this Code without great cost and impracticability;

(ii) where the building site has a slope greater than a one (1) foot rise in seven (7) feet of run or the topography presents other unusual or exceptional difficulties;

(iii) where the building site is not in the form of a rectangle and has an area of less than 4,000 square feet;

provided further that in the event that a variance under this section is granted for the establishment of a car storage facility, that a provision must be made that the floor level of such facility must be so set in relationship to established grade, or in the absence thereof, such other grade level as shall be set by the street superintendent or city engineer, that the grade of the driveway between the front of said facility and the property line shall not exceed ten per cent (10%)."

Section 2. Effective Date. This ordinance shall take effect thirty (30) days after its final passage and approval.

Abbie Powers

Funeral rites were solemnized Tuesday in Fresno for Mrs. Abbie Powers, who since 1920 has divided her time between her summer home in Carmel and her home in Fresno.

Born in Winters, Colusa County, on October 7, 1879, Mrs. Powers was the wife of the late Lucius Powers, whose death occurred 25 years ago. A member of the Carmel Woman's Club, she also held life membership in Junipero Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Martha Harrington of Carmel; two sons, Lucius Powers of Fresno and Aaron Powers of Balboa Island; four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Blanche Garland

Mrs. Blanche Garland, whose country home is on Seventeen Mile Drive, Pebble Beach, died Monday in Los Angeles after an illness which followed a broken hip last autumn.

Widow of William May Garland of Pebble Beach and Los Angeles, Mrs. Garland, a social leader, philanthropist and amateur horticulturist, leaves one son, John Garland, and two grandchildren, all of San Marino. Services were to be held today in St. John's Episcopal Church of Los Angeles.

RESOLUTION

BE IT RESOLVED that certain property hereinafter described in Notice To Bidders and incorporated herein is hereby declared as not required for school use and is not and will not at the time of delivery be needed for a classroom building by the Carmel Unified School District.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Notice is hereby given by the Board of Trustees of the Carmel Unified School District that it intends to sell certain property hereinafter described:

DESCRIPTION

Two story frame house, including certain fixtures therein, located at Dolores Street between First and Vista, Carmel, California.

The purchaser may remove the building and fixtures intact from the premises. The purchaser will assume all necessary expense in taking down and replacing telephone, electric, and other wires and fences which may obstruct removal of buildings, and pay all necessary fees in connection therewith.

The purchaser will assume all responsibility for the care and protection of the buildings and fixtures purchased by him and will be required to completely remove the building and fixtures from the premises within 90 days after sale. Premises must be left in a clean and orderly condition with all debris removed except concrete building foundations and shall close off and disconnect all utilities.

Arrangements to inspect the property may be made by making application to the District Superintendent, Box 600, Carmel, California.

The terms are cash payable by cashiers or certified check upon execution of the contract of sale by the purchaser.

Sealed bids made upon forms supplied by the seller will be received at the office of the District Superintendent and at the regular meeting of the Board of Trustees up to 8:00 p.m., April 22, 1958. Bids may not be withdrawn after being opened and are subject to acceptance within 30 days after the time specified for opening. Each bid must be accompanied by a cashiers check, certified check or bid bond made payable to the Carmel Unified School District in the sum equal to ten percent (10%) of the bid. This check or bid bond guarantees the purchaser will sign a contract within 15 days after being awarded the sale. If the bidder defaults the check or bid bond will become the property of the School District. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids without explanation and to waive any informality of any bid received.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the District Superintendent is directed to cause the above resolution to be published in the Carmel Pine Cone, a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of Monterey once a week for three successive weeks and by posting said resolution in three public places, to wit: Carmel River School, Carmel, California; Carmel Woods School, Carmel, California; and Carmel High School, Carmel, California.

PASSED AND ADOPTED this 25th day of February, 1958 by the following vote:

AYES: George V. Yates, Glenn F. Leidig, Dorothy von Meier, Gordon Campbell, Ted Fehring.

NOES: None.

ABSENT: None.

Letters . . .

Honolulu, Hawaii,
March 14, 1958.

Dear Friends:

Do not send Pine Cone on to me here in Honolulu, as I will be on my way home March 19. Will come on the Matsonia. I have enjoyed reading the Pine Cone, giving me news of Carmel, while I have been away from home.

I have had a most delightful visit here in Honolulu, with family and friends. I also had a visit on Island of Kauai for two weeks and was on Island of Maui for four days.

I passed the Pine Cone on to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cross and Mr. and Mrs. B. Bowers. The Crosses and Bowerses will be returning to Carmel within the year.

I have enjoyed each and every day here in the Islands, but, I have also missed my many friends in Carmel, and, while one always hates to leave these beautiful Islands, it's wonderful to know, home is in our own beautiful Carmel.

I'll run in and see you when I return. Just send my Pine Cone to my Carmel address and I'll catch upon the news when I return. Thanks.

Sincerely,
Beulah Dredge.

SINCE ALL DAYS

Since all days are beyond knowing for we are, skip, and gone over the meridian hills wide rolls the eye as long the line is lengthening.

At dusk unfinished fields sift time between and flowing, autumn voices unchecked as carrying streams, prolix as pain speak harvests, rich with longing.

—KATHRYNE E. SCOVILLE

TRAIN AT NIGHT

I stumble up the hill-road of wakefulness,
Unable to locate the smooth highway to sleep.
Then suddenly you break in on the loneliness.
Into a thousand reverberating fragments
You shatter the hush.

Across the landscape, spattered with moonlight,
Your whistle scrawls its shrill signature.
I am no longer alone,
I am companioned by your grinding intrusion.
From my window I see your yellow eyes
Blink through the dark,
And when your thunder clatters away in the distance,
I still feel befriended,
I am no longer alone.

—LUCIA TRENT.

RETURN

My life began, as the Odyssey,
With the color of an absentee.

Down, down a cliff-sheer circumstance,
I followed the golden leaf of chance.
Drifted off to a crimson comber,
Sunset-swallowed, as any roamer.
The sky was a mountain bluebird calling,
Fringed with circular fire, falling
A painted song to a bough of night.
I swirled and swirled like a satellite.

My youth was drowned, as the maple leaf
I sailed, for time is a pirate-thief;
Yet, even now my wings brush Homer,
And I float, all gold on a crimson comber.

—OTHELIA LILLY.

Bill Craig MPC Student President
Bill Craig, a Pebble Beach resident, is now serving as president of the Associated Students for the spring semester at Monterey Peninsula College.

Craig, a sophomore at MPC, has served as president of Youngman's Hall, president of the freshman class, and during the fall semester he served as Commissioner of clubs, and the presiding officer of the Inter-Club Council.

He has been a member of the Business Club, and he was elected president before becoming commissioner of clubs.

He has also been a member of Alpha Gamma Sigma, California Junior College honor society, and has played on the Lobo football team for two seasons.

Craig also serves as a counselor at Robert Louis Stevenson School.

His major is in the area of public relations.

Sgt. Mitchell Attends Retreat

Sgt. John H. Mitchell Jr., who was living in Carmel and studying at the Language School before being sent to Korea last July, recently attended a five-day religious retreat at the Army's Far East retreat site near Seoul. Protestant, Catholic and Jewish chaplains alternate planning the program of lectures, conferences and services at the retreat. Mitchell is an intelligence sergeant with the Eighth Cavalry's Headquarters Company.

Week End Visitors

Mrs. Grace Parsons Douglas of Pebble Beach had as recent guests Mr. and Mrs. Newton K. Chase of Ojai. Mr. Chase heads the Thacher School there.

Scott McKenzie Arrives

In perfect cooperation with what the Donald McKenzies Jr. call their "five-year plan" was the birth last Thursday at Peninsula Community Hospital of Scott, who weighed six pounds, ten ounces. Other members of the "plan" are Susan, 15; Stewart Donald, 10, and Sally, 5. Scott also timed his arrival for four days after the McKenzie clan had celebrated the 80th birthday of grandfather Donald McKenzie Sr., of Carmel Valley, at a barbecue at Big Sur Park attended by four generations of the family. Scott also has a grandmother in the Valley, Mrs. McKenzie Sr.

Return From Caribbean

A tour, mostly by air, of the Caribbean area and points in Central and South America, was the good fortune of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Walker, who returned to Carmel last week after a three-week absence. With them when they visited Mexico City, Guatemala, Caracas, Trinidad, Haiti and Montego Bay were their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Thompson, and Mr. Walker's sister, Mrs. Ernest Schweninger, also of Carmel.

To Attend Hartnell Meet

Stuart Mitchell, superintendent of schools for Carmel, and Mrs. Julian von Meier, member of the Carmel School Board, will be in Salinas Saturday representing this district at the all-day tri-county regional workshop conference of the California School Boards Association. School officials from Monterey, San Benito and Santa Cruz Counties will attend the session, to be held on the Hartnell campus.

Carmel Business Association

The Carmel Business Association officially lent its support toward passage of the forthcoming $800,000 school bond and over-ride tax in action taken at the group's first quarterly dinner meeting last Thursday evening. Members voted approval of the plan following information on the bond and tax presented by Charles Moody, Carmel High School instructor, and George Yates, school board member.

La Causerie Francaise

Edgar Bissantz, founder and honorary president of La Causerie Francaise, will show his collection of color slides of France before the group Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the Carmel Art Gallery, Dolores and Sixth Streets.

Pigeon Club Race

The Carmel Monterey Seaside Homing Pigeon Club will begin its 1958 season Sunday with a Visitors' Day Special race from Martinez, a distance of about 100 air miles. Trophies will go to the fastest bird of the day and to the loft with the best average speed.

Women's Democratic Club

An Easter luncheon and bazaar will be one of two events scheduled during March for the women of the Carmel Democratic Club. The salad luncheon, with home-made desserts, will be served from noon to 2:00 o'clock, March 28, at the Carmel Masonic Hall. Hand-made items, including Easter toys and baked goods, will be offered at the bazaar tables, along with plants and art objects. The second March event will be the arrival of the press of a gourmet cook book, with some 100 special recipes contributed by members. The debut of the book is expected to be coincidental with the bazaar, so that the first copies may be sold there.

In Ord Reserve Unit

Gertrude E. Sample of Carmel Valley, WAC reservist with the rank of sergeant, first class, has been assigned to the 6211th Army Reserve unit at Ft. Ord as a clerk typist for the personnel section, according to the Ft. Ord information office. Assigned to the same unit was Alf Anderson Jr., a senior at Carmel High School who has just completed six months' training in the Army Reserve Forces Act program at the post. Sgt. Sample, in civilian life a clerk at the Ord Post Engineer Section, is a veteran of more than seven years in the WAC, three of them as a member of the WAC Band at Daytona Beach, Florida.

Carmelites On MPC Honor Roll

Seven Carmel residents attending Monterey Peninsula College were on the honor roll for having received a 3.0 or B grade average. One Carmel resident, Jessie Quick, received a 4.0 or straight A average. She will receive a certificate of merit and her name will be inscribed on an honor plaque which is displayed in the MPC student union.

Clarence Lane, also of Carmel, received high honors for having earned at least 3.5 or B-plus average.

Honors were earned by five other Carmel residents. They are Kenneth Green, Nance Oldenburger, Norman Seward, Thomas Schmidt, and John Thompson.

These students will now be eligible for membership in Alpha Gamma Sigma, California Junior College honor society.

Approximately 85 students were on the honor roll.

Guests Of Osbornes

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Osborne of Rochester, New York, have been guests of his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osborne of Pebble Beach.

School Board Meeting

At an informal session with representatives from committees interested in the school bond election, the Carmel School Board last Thursday evening made further plans for bringing the need for additional school funds to the attention of voters. Among those present were chairmen of the Citizens', Finance, Get-Out-The-Vote and Publicity Committees.

To California

a glass of beer
is many things

Los Angeles—famous for its intricate network of modern freeways. Another familiar sight, one that "belongs" in our state is a cool, refreshing glass of beer. It's a favorite of millions.

But a glass of beer means more than enjoyment. Last year taxes on beer in our state amounted to $16,200,000. That's enough to build a new 2-lane highway from San Francisco to Yosemite. And since a good part of the Brewing Industry's taxes goes into our highway system, it's obvious that beer is paying its way—for the good of our state.

Bestors Fete St. Patrick

Because St. Patrick is, among other things, the patron saint of engineers, George C. Bestor, Carmel civil engineer, and Mrs. Bestor chose St. Patrick's Eve to entertain some 100 friends at the Carmel Craft Studios Sunday night. Given prominent place were shamrocks, a Blarney castle and stone and a "leprechaun" who served punch. Mrs. Virginia Goodall, harpist, furnished music. Among guests were Bert Herron, Mayor and Mrs. John Chitwood, Mr. and Mrs. Wildred Aldous, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elston, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cranston, Mr. and Mrs. Bill O'Malley, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Liese, Mr. and Mrs. John Ruster, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Scheffler, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Shields, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tanous, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Thorndike, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Metz. Mmes. Thornton Allen, Scheffler and Liese were delegated assistant hostesses. The host, who is state president of the Civil Engineers and Land Surveyors, was recently named national vice president of the Surveyors and Mappers organization and with Mrs. Bestor will fly to Washington, D. C., tomorrow to be installed in his new office.

Dr. Houghton Is Co-Honoree

A coffee hour for members of the World Affairs Council which followed the address last week and here of Sir Alexander Grantham turned into a two-act, double birthday party when WAC hosts discovered both Sir Alexander's and Dr. Henry Houghton's birthdays fall this month. Sir Alexander's was in fact, last Saturday. From one cake flew an American flag, from the other a British. The visitor, long in the British diplomatic service, is retiring governor-general of Hong Kong.

Social-Athletic Club Dance

The Carmel Valley Social and Athletic Club has scheduled its monthly dance for Saturday evening, from 9:00 o'clock to 1:30, at the Farm Center. David Rose and his orchestra will play.

West Point Founders' Day

At the same hour when West Point graduates and former cadets of this area assemble for the annual Founders' Day dinner tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock in the Presidio Officers' Open Mess, the wives and widows of graduates and cadets are to be dinner guests at the Fort Ord Open Mess. Women in this area who come under this designation but who have not yet been contacted, are asked to call Mrs. T. N. Sibley, FR 5-1511, Ext. 544. The program at the informal event for West Pointers will include music by the 52nd Army Band and the Fort Ord Soldiers' Chorus and movies of last year's Army football games.

Back From Convention

Kenneth W. Wiese, industrial arts instructor for Sunset School, and Howard Byrne, Carmel High School shop teacher, have returned from Long Beach where they participated last week end in the California Industrial Education Association convention. Mr. Wiese gave a talk and demonstration on jewelry making at the junior high level, and Mr. Byrne demonstrated with mock models how to make skis. More than 300 educators and others interested in industrial arts attended the meeting.

Visit Mrs. Grace Howden

Visitors at Carmadon, Carmel Woods home of Mrs. Grace C. Howden, are Mrs. Howden's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds Phillips, who drove down to the Peninsula from their home in Seattle. The visitors were guests of honor at a dinner party yesterday evening at Mrs. Howden's home.

"Ren" Phillips is managing editor of Boeing Aircraft Magazine in Seattle.

Pillsburys On Nevada Trip

Leaving for Reno on a brief vacation today are Mr. and Mrs. C. Taylor Pillsbury of Pebble Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hudner of Hollister. There they will celebrate Mrs. Pillsbury's birthday and their wedding anniversary.

Morses Honor WAC Speaker

Sir Alexander Grantham, who was guest speaker for the World Affairs Council last week, and Lady Grantham were guests of honor at a dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. S. F. B. Morse last Saturday evening. Other honorees were the Morses' houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Edmunds Lyman and Col. George Stimmler.

Members Entertain At CF

The entertainment at Carmel Foundation Town House on Wednesday will be furnished by a group of long-time Foundation members. Mrs. Marjorie Pegg will sing. Mrs. Ruth Elmer will read a story and short poems in French Canadian dialect. Mrs. Emeline Curry and Miss Grace Ely will give readings. The program begins at 3:00 o'clock and tea will be served.

Kippy Stuart To Speak

Kippy Stuart, landscape architect, will be speaker for the Garden Section Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Carmel Woman's Club. Mrs. Stuart, author of several books on jungle lore, has landscaped 72 gardens on the Peninsula. Topic of her talk will be Why Landscape? Well known for her views on landscaping and horticulture, Mrs. Stuart believes the home owner should decide what he wants to see from his window and only after his decision should he seek the advice of an expert on how to accomplish his goal. After the program tea will be served by Mrs. Samuel Moore and her committee: Mmes. Carl Mennekin, Elsie Allen, Dess M. Glover, and Miss Constance Post. Mrs. Steven Olap and Miss Marjorie Pegg will pour.

After-Theater Parties

Among Peninsulites entertaining for the cast of the Theater Guild production, Tunnel of Love, and their friends have been Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clark of Pebble Beach, who were hosts at an after-theater party following the Tuesday night performance, and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osborne, who entertained with a similar party after Wednesday night's show. Both performances were at Sunset Auditorium.

Return To Pebble Beach

Two families returning to their Pebble Beach homes after absences are the Lester Armours, who will arrive soon from Lake Forest, Illinois, to occupy their home here for a spring vacation, and the Harry Hunts, who have returned after vacationing in Florida.

ENTRANCE CLOSES APRIL 15 FOR AMATEUR SHOW IN KING CITY

The Salinas Valley Fair Amateur Show will be held in King City May 8-10, with the deadline on entries set April 15. First prizes of $50 will be offered the first two nights and a first of $100 in the finals, with other prizes offered on a diminishing scale. Auditions will be held immediately following the April 15 closing date for entrants.

The contest is open to anyone who has had no paid professional experience, who is a resident of Monterey County and who did not win first prize last year. There are no limits on age or size of a performing group. However, performers must provide their own accompanists. Entry blanks are available from Kenneth Funk, Salinas Valley Fair director, Box 643, King City.

FROM A LIBRARIAN'S NOTEBOOK

By Ruth Galyon Thornburg

Headlining this week's show of books, because of its size if for no other reason, is one by Richard Griffith which is entitled, The Movies. From the heroes and heroines of the penny arcades to the cinema stars and pin-up girls of the present day, this book has them all. You will find it hard to put down. And you will find out much about the films that you did not know before. For instance, did you know that when Harold Lloyd made Safety Last he worked with only a net between himself and the street far below him? He used no doubles, and no gimmicks, no trick photography.

Two new books on the Civil War are ready for you. One by Richard West is entitled Mr. Lincoln's Navy. This book is said to add greatly to our information about the Union Navy, which was almost non-existent at the beginning of the war but played an increasingly vital role as the conflict progressed. The second book is by Roy Meredith. It is entitled Storm Over Sumter. This is the beginning of the war as it related to Fort Sumter, the thirty four hour siege which led to the fall of the fort and completed the first episode of the war.

Gwen Terasaki married a Japanese diplomat in 1931. They were living in Washington at the time of the attack on Pearl Harbor and were first interned in this country and later shipped to Japan on the exchange ship Gripsholm. There they lived out the war years and after the Japanese surrender Mr. Terasaki served in various capacities with General MacArthur. Mrs. Terasaki's book, Bridge to the Sun, is a portrait of the Japanese people whom she loved, and of life as an alien in a country where she found only kindness and courtesy.

It is a known fact that emotions cause certain diseases, and that in such cases the patient may be cured by psychiatry. That this process may be almost as traumatic as the emotions which caused the disease is a fact which comes to the reader of Woman With Arthritis by Ann Scott. This story is true. The thing to remember is that all arthritis is not caused by the identical emotional disturbances that Ann Scott suffered. To each his own. Read this book and then decide if your particular aches might be caused by your emotions and if you want to be well hard enough to take the road she took. Woman With Arthritis by Ann Scott.

Speaking of being helped by something or other, we have another book this week which would help us all toward better appearance. It is the Slenderella Cookbook by Myra Waldo. It is for those who wish to maintain normal weight as well as for those who need to reduce a little or a lot. It is full of delightful recipes, each one with its little calorie count by servings. This makes it easy to keep track of calories, and hard to fib when discussing your favorite topic, your diet.

There are several new novels and many other more serious books. And this is still National Library Week. Drop in and browse a while.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON
How spiritual perception of God's power brings freedom from bondage to materialism will be a topic dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Matter" is the Golden Text from I John (2:16): "All that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (277:29): "Nothing we can say or believe regarding matter is immortal, for matter is temporal and is therefore a mortal phenomenon, a human concept, sometimes beautiful, always erroneous."

Selections from the Bible will include the following (Isaiah 40: 8): "The grass withereth, the flower fadeth: but the word of our God shall stand for ever."

HORSE SHOW POSTPONED

The Carmel Valley Trail and Saddle Club All Junior Horse Show which was rained out last Sunday has been rescheduled for March 30, beginning at 1:00 o'clock in the afternoon at Carmel Valley Stables, Rancho Carmelo.

Henry C. Overin

Final rites were to be held this morning for Henry Clay Overin Jr., long-time Carmel resident, who died unexpectedly Sunday evening at his home at Carpenter Street and First Avenue.

Mr. Overin's birth date was November 15, 1908, in Weehawken, New Jersey. He moved to Carmel in 1923 and wed Laura Tedrow July 15, 1931, in St. Mary's Episcopal Church of Pacific Grove. The Rev. John Powell of the same church officiated at this morning's services, held in the Dorney and Farlinger chapel, Monterey.

For many years Mr. Overin was a hotel manager in Carmel and was more recently a civilian employee in the Maintenance Division of Fort Ord. He was a charter member of the Carmel Lions Club.

Survivors, in addition to Mr. Overin's wife, are a son, Henry Clay Overin III of Carmel; a brother, George Overin of Miami, Florida; four sisters, Mrs. Lindell

Marjorie Taylor

Mrs. Marjorie Webber Taylor of Carmel died Sunday evening in a local hospital after a lengthy illness. Services were held Monday afternoon in Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel. Dr. Carleton E. Whitehead of the Church of Religious Science conducted the rites.

A Carmel resident for five years, Mrs. Taylor came here from New York. She was born July 7, 1892, in Brooklyn. Surviving are her husband, John Taylor, and a daughter, Mrs. Helen Thiele, also of Carmel.

Following the services, inurnment took place at the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea. Friends who wish to do so may make donations to charities of their choice in honor of Mrs. Taylor.

Coleman and Mrs. Mabel Conklin, both of Teaneck, New Jersey; Mrs. Caroline Bronstein of Baltimore, Maryland, and Mrs. Beatrice Orrell of Santa Monica.

All Saints' Vestry Accepts Resignation Of The Rev. Angus Dun

The vestry of All Saints' Episcopal Church of Carmel Monday evening accepted the resignation of the Rev. Angus Dun, Jr., rector of the church for the past three and a half years.

In announcing the acceptance, which occurred at a special meeting called for the purpose, church officials said they will begin looking for a successor to Rev. Dun immediately. Until a new rector is signed, however, the pulpit will be filled by guest clergymen.

Rev. Dun was out of town this week and unavailable for comment on his resignation, which came as a surprise to Peninsulites. Earlier in the week acquaintances of the minister said he had quit his post for "personal reasons."

JACK SWANSON EXHIBITION

Now on exhibition at the Pebble Beach Gallery, Del Monte Lodge, is the work of Jack N. Swanson, Carmel Valley artist specializing in western and cowboy themes. The artist is a member of the Carmel Art Association. The exhibition will continue through March 30.

Mrs. Smith Files For Election To C'd. School Board

interesting comparisons.

"After four years of teaching I passed the examinations required in order to teach in the San Francisco school system, two days of written tests on subject matter and method, and a personal interview before the board sitting as a body. I was appointed to a school, but was granted a leave of absence in order to accept the position as principal of the five-teacher school. I was twenty-two years old at the time."

Mrs. Smith is the mother of a son and two daughters, Hugh Smith, Carmel tree surgeon in business with his father, received the Science Award on graduating from Salinas Junior College, and holds a degree in forestry from the University of Washington. During World War II, he was a fighter pilot aboard the Navy carrier Hornet.

Daughters are Mrs. George (Dorothy) Jacobson of Rapid City, South Dakota, whose husband is an instructor in the South Dakota School of Mines and Technology, and Mrs. Irvin (Elinor) J. Kogan, whose husband teaches electronics at California Polytechnic at San Luis Obispo.

Both daughters are graduates with honor from Salinas Junior College and graduates of the University of California at Berkeley and Mrs. Kogan holds a master's degree from the University of Washington. Both are life members of Alpha Gamma Sigma scholarship honorary society.

Mrs. Jacobson's degree was in the field of public health and she subsequently spent two years in India with her husband under the technical assistance program. Mrs. Kogan graduated in psychology, did her graduate studies in social work and served as a juvenile court probation officer.

Planners Of Two Views On Fence Ordinance

galvanized fence posts, and although of modest height, could have been twice as obvious if built to the legal maximum height.

"With many un-Carmel materials now available—chain link, corrugated aluminum, corrugated plastic for example, I think the council might well consider revising the fence ordinance either to include permissible materials or to exclude the above mentioned ones, or others that may not fit our community," Mr. Whitaker wrote.

The council corrugated its foreheads over the letter, wondered if they legally could do it so, should, and then remembered they had a planning commission and referred it to them.

Mrs. Talbert Josselyn thought that the commission should commend Mr. Whitaker for bringing this before us.

Hugh Smith was concerned with "a trend toward conformity." Such an ordinance would force conformity in the matter of fences. "The individuality of each builder of our community is a priceless thing."

Mrs. Josselyn said she disagreed. In the interest of encouraging individuality why not "let them put up any form of sign? When beauty is trespassed on we should restrict that kind of individuality."

Mrs. Jessie MacGregor thought an ordinance that specified "materials they cannot use" would not be too restrictive.

Chairman George Wilcox wondered if the city had a legal right to legislate on fences in the residence district. He also thought the planning commission might judge on each fence on its merits.

Several members said that if legally they had powers of design control in the residence district—they have an ordinance prohibiting construction of two houses of identical design in the same block—then they have a legal right to control fence materials.

Chuckling, Fred Keeble brought the discussion, which was growing warm, to a conclusion with the comment that they might pass an ordinance "that there should be no chain fences more than four inches in height."

Somebody said that they had enough to do right now working on the sign ordinance, which the attorney hadn't produced, "so let's postpone the fence question until after the sign ordinance has been disposed of."

The tree planting policy report, though it recommends a vigorous and consistent program of the city's planting new trees to replace the city trees that are going or gone, emphasizes individual responsibility.

"The key figure in our practice of good forestry is the individual property owner. His efforts will ultimately be of much greater importance than anything the city can do," because, "The city has a very limited amount of planting space available. It is invariably narrow, and often down-graded by sidewalks or packed ground, surfaced streets, eroded soil, utility wires and underground pipes."

The citizens are asked to co-operate with the city in the city tree planting program. "A form should be centrally available, perhaps in the office of the city clerk, whereby citizens could file a suggestion for planting, which could be processed through the street superintendent and the planning commission for council action."

Again: "The private citizen and property owner should be encouraged to supplement the program on his own small part of the forest by keeping good trees, replacing them with young trees when they must be removed, and starting new plantings where space permits."
